ARE PUSHING HUNS NEARER TO GERMANY

ALLIED ARMY CONTINUES TO ADVANCE DESPITE STIFF RESISTANCE OFFERED BY HUNS. MANY VILLAGES TAKEN

CAPTURE 8,000 BOCHES

Thousands of Prisoners Taken By Field Marshal Haig's Men. Americans Break Through Boche Defense

(By Associated Press.)

With the Allied Armies in France and Belgium, Oct. 25. Fighting which compared fierceness to almost any in the war continued throughout the night in the field of the great battle of Valenciennes. Related reports indicate the British have entered German defenses and are gaining considerable ground pressing eastward slowly but surely. Since Wednesday morning the British third army has taken 6,000 prisoners and the first and fourth armies each have taken 1,200.

More than 100 cannon were captured Wednesday and Thursday.

Heaviest guns made. American 15 inch guns, manhandled by naval gun crews, have come into action with the American army at the front. Disclosed that through efforts of the ordnance official of the garrison, General Pershing's forces are now equipped with the most powerful and hardest hitting weapons yet used in the present war ashore or afloat, so far as is known.

Huge Explosions.

The 15-inch rifles are similar to those designed for use aboard the newest American dreadnaughts. They are 60 calibers, more than 6 feet in length and weigh approximately 100 tons without their carriages. Without question they are the longest range guns in use except the German super guns which are regarded merely as a mechanical freak.

Shell Weights Ton. The projectiles weigh close to a ton and its bursting charge is measured in hundreds of pounds against the few pounds in the German super gun shells. The destructive effect is enormous. Plans for using big rifles for the army are understood to have been worked out entirely by naval officers.

British Hitting.

On high ground south of Valenciennes, the battle is raging with intense fury, but the British are gradually overcoming the enemy.

At last reports, the British held this line, from le Pecq to Robersart to Englefontaine to Ghissignies, holding dignities where they had within a mile and a half of le Quesnoy to the east and Ruesnes to Sommepy to Monchaux. The British gained Monchaux after bloody fighting.

French Advance.

Paris.—On the Aisne front east of Reuil, French troops have captured the village of Ambly and Flavoy taking 100 prisoners; the war office announced yesterday.

In the region of Longchamps where the French are east of the Sambre and two German attacks were repulsed. On the front of the Serre river and eastward the French this morning resumed their pressure against the enemy.

American Advance.

Paris.—Fighting along the American front on both sides of the Meuse is still strong. German artillery fire improved their position at three important points along the front east and west of the Meuse during the night.

Americans Active. Fighting along the American front on both sides of the Meuse is particularly fierce. The Germans appear to be making a desperate effort to hold their position in this vital sector. Information received here gives the impression they cannot resist much longer in their present position.

Capture Town. London.—The British have captured Mazing, southwest of Valenciennes. Field Marshal Haig announced. The British also have captured Vendegies-sur-Ecaillon on the front below Valenciennes. The German counter attack was repulsed and fighting resumed early this morning.

Shell Rail Centers.

With American Army in France—American 15 inch guns manned by American blue jackets co-operating with the French began firing on German railroad centers south of the Serre-Oise front on Wednesday. The Americans directed their shells against railroad supply stations and junctions in the rear of Vervins and the vicinity of Rozy.

With Allied Armies in France and Belgium, Oct. 25.—Heavy fighting taking place today in the battle front in the region of Valenciennes, especially south of the town. The British have gained ground at almost every point along the front.

With the American army north of Vervins, Oct. 25.—East of the Meuse the Germans have been forced to beat back more than a half mile on a front of nearly a mile and a half.

ITALIAN FRONT. The Italian front which has been at a low ebb since the final repulse of the Austrian offensive has revived. Vienna reports violent artillery fire between the Brenta and Piave rivers, and in the Montello sector. This is the part of the front which an Italian attack in force might be expected and interesting events may develop at any time.

IN BELGIUM.—In Belgium, there has been a comparative lull in the combat during the last few days, but it is improbable the allies will be content to stand on the western bank of the Scheldt river and the Bélgica-Zeebrugge canals after they have been able to bring up their heavy guns.

The country intersected with canals, streams with bridges destroyed and roads mined at frequent intervals, the work of moving artillery is difficult, and this may be the reason for the temporary check in the sweeping advance which drove the enemy back from Reupont to within seven miles of Ghent.

Hold Divina. Allied detachments which are holding the Divina in northern Russia, have been forced to beat out heavy attacks by Bolshevik troops, but have succeeded in holding their ground and even moving them toward the front.

With the American army north of Vervins, Oct. 25.—East of the Meuse the Americans strained out their line and captured several important bridges. Between Rappeswood and Bankswood the American line was extended despite stubborn resistance. The Germans are pushing their heavy guns and machine guns.

Accepted Appointment. WAUSAU, Wis.—Miss Marry B. Mooney has accepted her appointment as member of the community labor board to represent employers of women. Miss Libby Roloff has been appointed member of the labor board to represent women employees and has accepted.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—David Rose's health is not as seriously impaired as his recent letter inferred. In a subsequent letter to James H. Stover, writer for Para, Brazil the man may say he is much better and is confident he will recover completely. He expects to be back in Wisconsin in November.

Italian Troops Near the Piave and Brenta Open Big Offensive

(By Associated Press.) London, Oct. 25.—Italian troops have begun an offensive between the Piave and the Brenta in the Monte Grappa sector. Thursday they advanced across the Ormea river and captured Monte Solario, part of Monte Prassiano and Monte Pertica.

JAMES DEWANE WILL LEAVE JANESEVILLE

James DeWane, senior examiner in charge of the local federal employment bureau, received orders during the past few days that he will be transferred from Janesville to Milwaukee, during the next week. Mr. DeWane immediately turned over the care of Mr. Fred Schmidt, who is now in active service of the war. Mr. Schmidt will probably leave for Milwaukee early next week. His departure will be a great loss to the bureau as it was through his untiring efforts that the present success of the labor board must be attributed. He will still continue in the employment work being attached to the Milwaukee office.

During the past week, the local bureau sent twenty-three men to work outside the city of Janesville. Nineteen carpenters were sent to Camp Grant, where they will work for the John Erickson Co., who are at present in camp.

Fourteen carpenters were also sent to Barkdale, Wisconsin, to labor for the Du Pont Powder Works, located in that city. The industrial survey which the bureau has been working for the past few weeks in Janesville and Whitewater is completed and the classification of cards will shortly be ready.

POST NAMES OF ALL SLACKERS ON BOARD

Fond du Lac, Wis., Oct. 25.—Managers of the fourth Liberty loan in Waupun today erected a large bulletin board on which were posted the names of all volunteer subscribers, those who failed to subscribe, those who failed to subscribe to their full allotment, and two citizens who refused to subscribe.

The bulletin board, which is prominently displayed in the business district, will be preserved until the soldiers return from war, so they may know the record of each citizen on the loan.

Waupun is the first town in the state to publicly post the names of persons who refused to subscribe to the liberty loan.

War at a Glance

CLOSING GAPS.—Inroads by the British and Americans against the German line south of Valenciennes continued, and it seems probable the enemy will be forced to begin a retreat toward the east.

Although the allies have reached Mons-en-Cambrésis, where the Germans have prepared for a stubborn defense, the progress made just to the north of this extensive wooded section threatens to turn the enemy out of his position there, because he had an opportunity to meet from the attacks of the last few days, and the forces would see the advance between Marne forest and Valenciennes has shattered the German hope to stand on the defensive along this section.

FRENCH ADVANCE.—French forces fighting their way eastward through the German trenches along the Serré front have crossed the Serré and made a bridge which has held there for several days, and further south have advanced near Origny St. Béoncile. Just around the bend in the line they have cut a deep notch in the German line north of Villers-le-Sec. These successes are of a front which is quite important to the enemy and will be followed by the Germans in the same manner.

PHILADELPHIA HIT HARDEST BY GRIPPE

Washington—Mortality statistics covering the leading centers of population in the country which have been prepared by the United States census bureau give an approximate idea of the extent and deadliness of the influenza epidemic, which, although abating in many sections, still presents a serious problem in the nation.

EARTHQUAKE TREMORS RECORDED IN WASHINGTON

Colonel House selected as his assistant in this work a number of experts in certain fields and a great mass of information has been gathered. Much of it has been assembled at the headquarters of the American geographical society in New York and at his residence in that city. After the first German note was received, the president examined the data in company with Colonel House.

Colonel House is accompanied by Gordon Auchincloss, his son-in-law, Joseph E. Grew, chief of the state department division of western European affairs, and former secretary of the American embassy at Paris; and Frank L. Cobb, of New York. The party sailed a week ago Wednesday before the wireless version of the latest German note had been sent out.

OTHER CITIES SUFFER.

Albany 76.8, Baltimore 74.8, Boston 51.8, Buffalo 75.9, Chicago 52.7, Dayton 71.6, Fall River 96.8, Louisville 75.6, Los Angeles 96.5, Memphis 79.2, New Haven 64.2, New Orleans 62.6, New York 61.5, Pittsburgh 51.6, Providence 69.8, Richmond 84.4, Syracuse 65.7, Washington D. C. 109.3, Worcester 67.7. It is expected the high death rates will continue throughout the country for at least two or three weeks more before the disease may move on to have its course in the positions where it already appears.

Conditions were reported as continuing to improve slowly but steadily in a majority of the eastern and middle southern states. In extreme southern and western localities, however, the crest of the epidemic has not yet been reached.

Prague Increasing.

Moreover, the number of pneumonia cases is said to be increasing in many localities where the influenza epidemic seems to be dying out. Hence, the medical experts of the government continue to advise the public to maintain strictly the health and sanitation precautions recommended by the authorities.

MUST APPORTION ALL ANTHRACITE COAL

W. N. Fitzgerald, federal fuel administrator for Wisconsin, in a letter to Janesville dealers urges to appportion receipts of anthracite coal among many customers as possible. A car of fifty tons divided among fifty homes, he says, will keep fifty families warm and happy. Follow up this plan, he urges, with each succeeding car of anthracite and dealers then can keep the trade supplied and satisfied. Retailers in selling must be given first to customers using self-loading magazines, stoves and secondly to consumers using hot air furnaces. The use of soft coal and fuel wood is strongly pressed.

Following are ways to save fuel:

1. Start furnace and kitchen fires late as possible. Forget first few days of heat. Pick up with discomfort and remember what the boys over there did face.

2. Raise curtains to admit sunlight. Dispense with awnings. They shut out sun.

3. Weatherstrip doors and windows and put asbestos round furnaces, boilers and heating pipes.

4. Reduce home temperature to 65°.

5. Bedrooms, where windows are closed, for the night or otherwise, should be shut off from heat. Use blankets.

6. Wear heavier clothing, saving body heat.

7. Burn oil, wood, coke and bituminous, when possible. Use gas for cooking. Gas lighting aids in heating.

8. Use heavy draperies on doors and windows to husband heat.

The time has come when we must do away with lax habits, the outgrowth of years of plentiful coal supply. Unless voluntary conservation effects the necessary saving many non-war industries will have to be curtailed or shut down in order that the fuel they consume may be taken to fill the ever-increasing demands of our great war machine. Those who save help toward avoiding unemployment.

Bolshevik Shoot Hostages and Priests Says Newspaper Cravda

(By Associated Press.) Amsterdam, Oct. 25.—From the time that Moses Uritsky commission for election to the constituent assembly of Russia was assassinated late in August up to October 1, 68 hostages including five priests were shot by the Bolsheviks, according to Petrograd dispatches quoting the newspaper Cravda.

COL. HOUSE HAS ARRIVED IN FRANCE

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 25.—From the time that Moses Uritsky commission for election to the constituent assembly of Russia was assassinated late in August up to October 1, 68 hostages including five priests were shot by the Bolsheviks, according to Petrograd dispatches quoting the newspaper Cravda.

Wilson Seeking Aid to Retain Control of the Lower House

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 25.—President Wilson, today issued an appeal to the people to return Democratic congress in the November election if they approve of his course in this critical period.

Return of a republican majority to either house of the congress, the President said, "would be certainly interpreted on the other side of the water as a repudiation of my leadership."

The President said he would accept the country's verdict without cavil, but that if it was adverse, the power to administer the great trust assigned to him would be seriously impaired.

Further Proof.

The fact that Colonel House left for Europe several days before President Wilson's final reply to Germany was dispatched is further proof that every one of the president's negotiations with Germany has been taken into account with the entente government. It also is taken to indicate that decision to transmit the German plea to the allies under certain conditions was reached even before the last note from Berlin was received.

Further Proof.

The death rate for cities is computed on an annual basis per 1,000 population, as compared with the average rate, estimated on the same basis prevailing during the past five years.

LAWRENCE SELECTION

Washington, Oct. 25.—Colonel House long has been recognized as the logical selection by the president to represent him in such conferences as are now to be held. Not only is he closer to the president probably than any living man, but he is believed to be particularly fitted for the task at hand. He has made frequent trips to Europe, and the war began in 1914 conferring with leaders in the leading belligerent nations and more than a year ago he was charged by the president with gathering data to use at the peace conference.

INFORMATION GATHERED.

Colonel House selected as his assistant in this work a number of experts in certain fields and a great mass of information has been gathered. Much of it has been assembled at the headquarters of the American geographical society in New York and at his residence in that city. After the first German note was received, the president examined the data in company with Colonel House.

The party sailed a week ago Wednesday before the wireless version of the latest German note had been sent out.

WILL SPEAK FOR WILSON.

It is understood Colonel House is prepared to speak for the President in any negotiations which may be conducted concerning Prussia, to be determined before the military men, who are to have the final say, give the terms on which an armistice would be possible or for the formulation of concrete terms upon which peace may be made whenever the peace conference opens.

WILL NOT SPEAK FOR WILSON.

Admiral Benson is expected to represent the United States navy in the discussion of naval questions, as General Tasker H. Bliss represents the army on the supreme war council. The naval as well as the military leaders of the co-belligerents have informed the American government that their governments are informed of the conditions under which hostilities might cease.

PRAGUE'S INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Names of four officers and 70 enlisted men in German prison camps were announced today by the war department and includes at a camp unknown, Alfred F. Wagner, Wautoma, Wis.

TURKEY TO QUIT?

(By Associated Press.)

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 25.—Turkey will accept peace based on the principles of right and justice laid down by President Wilson which the new Turkish government approves. The Grand Vizier Tewfik Pasha is quoted in a Constantinople dispatch as having stated in parliament.

HOLLAND PEPPING TO RESUME SHIPPING

London, Oct. 25.—Shipping concerns in Holland are taking steps preparatory to resuming regular trips to England and America in consequence of the withdrawal of the U-boat menace, according to Amsterdam dispatch. Exchange telegraph company. Shipping from Denmark was resumed yesterday.

hundred will be served at the Y building

mediately leave for the trains, going

NEW ORDER ISSUED BY HEALTH OFFICER

D. S. B. BUCKMASTER ISSUES
ORDER REGULATING HOURS OF RETAIL STORES IN THIS CITY.

POOL HALLS CLOSED

Pool and Billiard Halls Must Stop Play But Can Keep Open Their Cigar and Soda Stands.

S. B. Buckmaster, city health officer, issued an order this afternoon ordering all retail stores with the exception of drug stores and restaurants, to remain closed until 9 o'clock in the morning and to close at 5 o'clock. The order also excludes butcher shops and grocery stores, which may open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 5
in the afternoon.

Saloons are ordered to open at 9 o'clock in the morning and close at 5 in the afternoon. They are also ordered to remain closed on Saturday afternoons and evenings after 5 o'clock. The order issued by the health officer follows:

"October 25, 1918.

To the Citizens of the City of Janesville:

"In spite of the efforts which have been made to check the spread of Spanish influenza in our city the disease seems to be on the increase, having reached a total of 1,000 cases at least 500 cases in one week. It is therefore becoming imperative and necessary that some further action be taken to stop the spread of this disease, and such action must be taken with an idea of preventing so far as is possible any number of people from congregating in any place.

Local citizens are urged to do all in their power to prevent unnecessary congregating of people in large numbers. The public can largely aid itself, if they will voluntarily avoid congregating in groups. The disease is contagious.

The retail dealers of the city have voluntarily agreed not to open their businesses before 9 a.m. in the morning and close at 5, except grocers and butchers, who will open at 7 and close at 5. On Saturday night all retail establishments will close at 9 o'clock. It is understood, of course, that this action does not effect drug stores for the sale of drugs and stock room essentials; restaurants, doctor's office, etc., for the accommodation of the transient public. It does, however, effect all other classes of business whatsoever, such as barber shops, cigar stores, professional offices, confectionery stores, etc. Billiard rooms shall be closed at all times under this order, but the cigar stores will remain open within the time limits herein above set forth.

"S. B. BUCKMASTER,

"Health Officer.

"Approved:
CHARLES L. VALENTINE,
"Mayor."

"(Signed)
ROGER G. CUNNINGHAM,
"City Attorney."

STATEMENT

"As an act of co-operation with the health authorities of the city and state, the retail merchants and other business men connected with the Janesville Chamber of Commerce yesterday voluntarily agreed to close their places of business at 5 o'clock in the evening in accordance with the order of the health officer herewith printed. The action was taken with a spirit having to do with the sole interest of the city at large and to conserve as near as possible the health of the citizens, because it is recognized that the disease is infectious.

This was done by the business men that by reducing the number of hours the danger would be minimized. Many business men as a matter of fact stated that they were willing to close their places entirely throughout the day and evening, if it was deemed necessary to go to this extent. The Chamber of Commerce, representing a large percentage of the citizenship of Janesville, and acting for the health officer during his illness, simply was the means through which this voluntary action was taken.

"Human life is the dearest thing on earth, and to conserve that to the utmost we heartily endorse the action of the health officer, and will continue to endorse the same or any other movement in the interest of the whole community at heart.

MERCCE.

The Truth About Candy

Is It Patriotic to Eat Candy?

Within Moderation—Yes!

A certain share is yours—so established because the U. S. Food Administration is agreeable to its manufacture and sale.

It knows that candy is a healthful, wholesome food and that the candy industry is an important factor in our national life, employing 200,000 people (mostly women) and having a capital investment of $110,000,000.

The administration realizes that business conditions must be disturbed as little as possible in order to "keep the home fires burning" and prevent widespread misfortune and unemployment.

Of course, candy contains some sugar—and everyone is asked to save sugar.

But the candy manufacturers were asked to save before you were—their allowance now being but 50% of normal.

The sugar used in candy is not wasted, but is presented to you in pleasing combinations with chocolate, milk, corn syrup, honey, nuts, fruits, raisins, etc.—all being highly nutritive and fuel for the human system.

Every person gets a certain allowance of sugar a month in addition to what they use for preserving and canning. You also are entitled to a certain amount in the form of candy, which your system will find to be good food—provided you eat it in moderation.

Limit your candy purchases to 1 pound at a time. And occasionally send a pound to the boys in camp.

SIXTY-THREE NEW CASES REPORTED

DOCTOR BUCKMASTER IN DAILY STATEMENT CLAIMS SIXTY-THREE NEW CASES OF FLU REPORTED ON THURSDAY

CITIZENS MUST AID

The Chamber of Commerce Call For Nurses Unanswered. Health Officer Urges Residents To Co-operate

Despite the fact that there were sixty-three new cases of Spanish influenza reported yesterday the total cases in the city decreased forty one cases. There are now a total of 670 cases in Janesville. There has been a total of 299 new cases in the city since Monday.

The editor of the Chamber of Commerce to secure additional nurses from surrounding cities have been futile, as the other communities are similarly situated as in Janesville. It therefore appears necessary to meet the emergency with the nurses that are now available in the city and by exercising greater diligence on the part of those attending the sick in private homes. Among the new cases reported during the past few days were six nurses who contracted the disease while nursing people effected it.

Local physicians are being taxed to the limit of their endurance. They are working night and day to fight the disease and they claim that while the epidemic is increasing daily in Janesville there is no cause for the people to become alarmed. With the new order in effect regarding the retail stores it is hoped that the disease will show a marked decrease before the beginning of next week.

Everything possible is being done by local authorities to combat the disease. Doctor Buckmaster urges that all of the citizens co-operate to the fullest extent. The people are again warned by Doctor Buckmaster not to congregate on the street or in public places.

Report of the situation here has been made to Thomas E. Coleman, Chairman, War Resources Committee, Madison, and to the War Vogel Chairman, War Industries Board, Milwaukee. The Chamber of Commerce was instructed a week ago to keep in close touch with the situation and report any indications of increase.

TWO NEW DIVISIONS ADDED TO FUEL RULE

Two new branches have been added to the Wisconsin office of the fuel administration—a hotel conservation division and an oil conservation division.

Erling Clarenbach, manager of the Milwaukee Martin and Medford hotels, has been appointed head of the hotel division. He will supervise the use of fuel in hotels throughout the state. Every hotel will be required to report him the amount of kerosene or fuel it uses, and the quantity used.

W. J. Rognane, secretary of the Badger-Packaging company, was named head of the oil division. He will scrutinize all plants where oil is used as a fuel to furnish motive power and will also be entrusted with all rulings relative to the distribution of conservations.

Both men were proposed by Washington and the appointments were confirmed by State Fuel Administrator W. N. Fitzgerald.

The meeting of the Philomathian团 which has been scheduled for tomorrow has been indefinitely postponed. Notice of the meeting will be given when health conditions warrant.

A CORRECTION.
Through an error in printing my communication of yesterday, you made and say in effect that saloons and politicians are "irresponsible of the public health." I am sorry for this and ask you to kindly correct it. Surely no one could be regardless of the public health under conditions so serious.

What I wished to say is that we should be in a position to give health needs precedence, but our health departments, as organized, compel those who need no compulsion and avoid any hostile issue with others, regardless of what the dictates of the public health may be.

Yours truly,
J. A. Melrose.

STATE CONSERVATION COMMITTEE GIVES LAWS

County Clerk Howard Lee received a communication this morning from the State Conservation Committee at Madison regarding the right of deer hunters during the open season. The law now provides protection of fawns throughout the year, there being no open season for such during the month of November. The time for deer hunting remains the same, the last ten days in November; but license hunters will be permitted to kill mature deer only, either one buck or one doe. Deer tags are now good for the shipment either buck or doe, and not only for the bucks. In other words, the "one buck law" is changed this year, and the hunter may kill the doe as well.

ROCK COUNTY BOYS HAVE ENTERED SCHOOL

After a temporary let down on account of the epidemic of influenza, the University of Wisconsin is in full blast again. Seventy-two men have been selected from the students of the S. A. T. C. to enter Officers Training school at Camp Grant, and of the seventy-four four are from Rock County men who were chosen from Robert C. Crowley, and Robert J. Stevens both of Janesville, and Rush D. Touton, and Morris J. Hitchcock of Edgerton. That the course is proving a tough one for the men is evidenced by the fact that 138 have been dropped this week from failure to qualify.

FOOD FOR PATIENTS THAT IS NOURISHING

That success in the treatment of influenza consists to a considerable extent in supplying the proper food is the opinion of Miss Amy L. Daniels, formerly connected with the Home Economics Department of the University of Wisconsin, who has been giving special attention to dietary questions in camps affiliated with Spanish Influenza.

"The diet," she declares, "should include milk, eggs, cooked fruit, or naps, well-cooked cereals, pulped vegetables, potatoes, and fat free soups and broths. With the exception of minced chicken, no meat as such should be given, and all fibrous vegetables should be put through a strainer before serving. Meat broths may be used as appetizers, but they contain so little nutrition that they must be used only when more nutritious foods are inclined to the nose."

"Since in most cases there is a high fever, it is obvious that as much nourishment as possible should be given. Protein enough to meet the body requirements of an adult may be obtained from one quart of milk and two eggs a day. A diet of this character must be increased. This should be obtained from cereals, bread and toast, potatoes, sugar, fruits and jellies. The amount of fat served must be somewhat limited, and best supplied by butter in creamed soups, sauces, and on bread and toast. No fried foods should be eaten, except for breakfast, with the exception of crisp bacon, he uses. Many patients with influenza suffer from intestinal disturbances, and fat in these cases must be avoided as far as possible."

In cases of persistent vomiting the condition should first be remedied by giving small quantities of milk, pulped boiled, or fruit juices. Other foods may be added gradually. When only small amounts of food can be retained, frequent feedings (every three hours) should be given. Fruit juices with sugar or milk added, partially skimmed cold boiled, or pasteurized milk, or buttermilk, and boiled crackers may be used for these feedings.

During convalescence, that is after the temperature has remained normal for at least two days, the diet may be gradually increased. During this period the patients are exceedingly hungry and although food may be given in moderate quantities such dishes as pastries, rich cakes, sausages, baked beans, sauerkraut, corn, unless steamed, and cucumbers should be avoided. In general, the diet should be similar to that given during the more critical period. Meat may now be served once a day, and vegetables may be used "either fresh."

The following menus were worked out by Miss Daniels and her associates during the present epidemic:

Breakfast: Cooked cereal; top milk, buttered toast, coffee or milk.

Dinner: Creamed potatoes, crisp bacon, apple sauce; bread and butter sandwiches; ice cream.

Brodhead News

Brodhead, Oct. 25.—Funeral services for J. C. Murdock were held today at the home, conducted by Rev. G. N. Foster of Albany, assisted by Rev. D. H. Levin at half past one o'clock. Interment was made in the old Dan Flinnane farm in West Magnolia, on Wednesday. Some boys were playing about the bridge and in lifting up a loose plank found a small square valise. Immediately their thoughts jumped to pro-German activities, and feeling sure it was a bomb they suddenly decided to go along to the police station in the vicinity. Charley Maloy brought the news to Chief of Police F. W. Gillman, and he at once drove out to investigate. The supposed bomb proved to be a doctor's medical case and a few surgical instruments. Prescription envelopes found in the case showed it belonged to Dr. R. C. Halsey of Lake Geneva, whose automobile was stolen from that city on September 21. The car, which was found, was also taken a short time ago.

Mrs. Grant Stokes of Woodstock, who came to attend the funeral of Mrs. H. Stokes, returned to her home on Thursday.

The early closing of the postoffice evenings and the request of numerous Gazette subscribers for opportunity to secure their papers the same evening, prompts the change.

Paper delivery routes may be established.

Those who prefer to secure their paper at the postoffice, as heretofore, please notify Mr. Miller or the Gazette office by card.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

DEAR Mrs. Thompson: I am just a young girl and have been going to school for over a year. I have gone with some of the nice boys in town. They seem to like me very much, but soon I have just found out that some one is telling them bad things that I have said about them, which I have not said. Some of the boys come to me and ask why I have said certain things and that never troubles me. This troubles me a great deal, as I do care for the friendship of some of the boys. What can I do to let them know? I don't say bad things about other girls, and how should I treat the one who is telling these things? E. N.

B. P. O. E. N. HEARTED.

All of us are inclined to speak in a confidential way about some of our secretions. Since there is a traitor among your friends you must be especially careful never to say anything unkind about any one else. If your boy friend says he will not believe what others say you have said. If questioned, deny any untruths, but do not make your denial too strenuous. Your character should be proof enough.

Do not look for the one who is telling the stories. If by chance you find that person be kind and courteous but do not be your guard.

DEAR Mrs. Thompson: My mother died when I was two years old. I am largely dependent upon myself and would like to know how I can make a little extra money. I work from seven until six, so I haven't much time and cannot sew. What would you advise?

I would advise you to be a nurse in some private family. In this way you would have your room and board and extra money for clothes.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

The Doctor and the War.

Every doctor has to decide for himself whether he shall offer his professional services to his country, and fortunate for America it is that no one else can decide this thing for the doctor.

However, an organization is being formed apparently to this very purpose—Medical Service Corps. It seeks to enroll in its membership every legally qualified medical practitioner, old or young, physically sound or defective, male or female, who is not already in the government service. The physician who enrolls signs a contract or agreement to render any service for which he may be called upon by the committee of citizens who serve as the governing board of the society. Now, that is asking a great deal of a doctor. It is a very different thing from a request from the government. It is asking the doctor to submit to the decision of other doctors as to his duty in certain circumstances.

There is not a doctor in the country, a German or an Austrian, who would not jump at the chance of rendering any service or which he is capable, at home or away from home, if the government were to honor him, in order to help. It is inconceivable that any legitimate practitioner should let slip such an opportunity. Why then, fritter away energy (as one eminent medical critic of the organization says) and why waste valuable material manufacturing pretty buttons or other insignia for persons who used to stay at home or assume they have to stay at home to wear. By staying at home to be celebrated as a valorous deed of self-sacrifice? Possibly in rare instances it is the bitterest kind of self-sacrifice, but that isn't the purpose of the so-called Volunteer Medical Service Corps. Its purpose is to control the entire unorganized profession and to issue such orders as it sees fit, all without any official review or sanction by the government, you should remember.

There is a very simple way for a doctor who is not yet as yet committed to the government service to anounce his patriotism to the world. Let him apply for a commission—let every public school be equipped with open air classrooms for a good share of the pupils.

THE STRUGGLE

BY ELLIOTT FERROL

THE TEMPEST.

For the third time since she had come to Arcadia Edith had indeed precipitated a tempest in the community after her human and modern concomitant and conservative point of view of those women who rightly or wrongly formed public opinions in Arcadia.

She had won on both previous occasions and had with her victories perceptibly broadened and humanized many Arcadians. But this last time she had met her teacher in the children the birth of the fundamental questions her children asked, threatened more trouble to her comfort than the previous disagreements. Each parent felt called upon by the situation either to confess to the children that they had stumped them with armen myths or to cling to their traditions.

The many women who chose the latter alternative were compelled to keep their youngsters away from the Ferrol children; for Virginia and Jackie had become zealous defenders and missionaries of their mother's version of the origin of life.

But if there were those who with drew the children and their visits from the Ferrols there were a considerable the most intelligent in Arcadia—who not only were in sympathy with Edith's point of view but championed it publicly. The country club porches echoed to excited discussions of the subject. One side declared Edith Ferrol's views a menace; the other thought them the only version worth while.

The controversy did not stop at discussion over recluses. The children of the community—the worst gossips in any community—threw themselves hotly into the dispute as one which arose with them, affected them and belonged to them.

The teachers in the neat stone schools of Arcadia had to decide many a heated argument on the subject among their pupils, and did not know which way to turn. If they decided with the Ferrol children, the champions of Edith's views, they would bring about their ears the indignation of parents of the opposite camp. If they supported the Bacon children's version, they would be teaching what they knew was false.

In their distress they appealed to schools. He had met the situation before in other districts and had

"Allons, enfants de la Patrie!" They rose like one man, chasseurs, zouaves, a few French legionaries, and shouted with their stately glasses held high above their heads. While they sang the woman was silent, her sleek head with its massive coils of smooth, black hair bent so that her face was hidden in shadow. The man with the roses crossed the intervening space and stood opposite her. She turned slightly and looked at him.

"Good evening, Mademoiselle Ranchel."

"Good evening, monsieur."

"You see, I have come again."

"After all these months?"

He nodded.

"Monsieur is married?"

"So they say."

She laughed, throwing back her head so that the light fell on her bold Semitic features. He laughed, too, and held the flowers outstretched. For a moment she glared at him with a sharp, suspicious questioning.

"What does that mean, monsieur?"

"What it has always meant."

"Things are to be as they were?"

"Yes."

She bent and kissed him on either cheek.

They had sung the refrain for the third time. The zonette had collapsed in a corner, and the self-appointed accompanist remembered apparently that he was thirsty. He got up, and with the last tinkle of the piano the singing died into a mingled hiccuping and laughter.

Then the girl on the table sprang up, glass in hand. Her face, lit by the red light, was deliciously beautiful to its mocking laughter.

"You drunken fools!" she said shrilly. "Behold, I will give you a toast which you can all drink with a good heart. To the devil who brought us here—hurrah!"

She tossed down the fiery liquid at one draft, and her audience answered any standing by the piano beneath the cluster of red lanterns. No sign of recognition passed between them. Yet from that moment onward the noisy crowd vanished. The shouts and laughter dissolved itself into a swift, deadly dialogue. Richard Nameless came straight across to the man who had worn the roses.

"Captain Arnaud!" he said quietly.

"If you say my name again here I will shoot you down," was the quicker answer. "What are you doing in that masquerade? Spying?"

"Perhaps. The meeting I promised you has taken place. You can't turn me out of this company, can you, Captain Arnaud?"

"I have told you to leave my name alone. What do you want?"

"I want to know something—what are you doing here—with that woman?"

"That is my affair."

"And your wife? This is the way to do the devil!"

"The way she has driven me."

"You are a liar and a coward. I warned you once, and I warn you again. It would be far better for you to be dead than that you should drag her into misery and disgrace. She betrayed you!"

"Believe!" The hesitancy passed from Arnaud's face. He leaned forward; his eyes alight and deadly with some sudden flash of intention. "You

Dinner Stories

Mrs. McBratty was addicted to the use of alcohol, and after taking rather more than her share fell from the top flat of a three-story tenement. A minister visiting one of his rooms, commented on the tragic event, saying: "I trust the poor old woman must have been prepared, mentally," reported the physician, "for as she waded past or flat, I heard her exclaim, 'No for an awful smash!'

A music hall artiste who used to perform the provinces with a flock of performing ducks found managers no longer willing to book his shows.

After he had been "resting" for some time he received a telegram asking him to open on the following Monday at a variety theatre in the north of England.

In reply he wired:

"Regret cannot come. Have eaten the artistes."

At a pride of a company of newly-matched-up men the drill instructor's face turned scarlet with rage as he berated a new recruit for his awkwardness.

"Now, Rafferty!" he roared, "you'll spoil the line with those feet. Draw them back at once, man, and get them in line."

Rafferty's dignity was hurt.

"Rafferty, sargent," he said, "they're not mine; they're Micky Doolan's in the rear ranks."

"You've heard of Cleopatra, ain't yer, Jack?" queried the "old salt."

Jack (referring to ship of that name)—Yes, I was out in China 'er in '96.

"The dooce yer was! Then she ain't been dead so long as I thought."

"Gabrielle," the man said, scarcely above his breath, and then louder, with a note of impulsive interrogation, "Gabrielle?"

She turned and looked at him, and neither spoke. Whatever surprise or consternation there had been in her face had vanished. Her eyes met his boldly; her slender appeal steadily and sadly. Then she made a slight gesture—a gesture which seemed to indicate an immeasurable distance—and passed out resolutely on to the veranda.

He did not follow her beyond the first step. A man in civilian dress had come out of a flowered alcove, and as he saw his face Arnaud drew back with white lips. The stranger appeared not to notice him. He limped out on the veranda, his uneven step curiously noiseless.

Gabrielle Smith stood with her hands resting on the balustrade, her face lifted to the sky, already silvered with the first blush of the rising moon. All was quiet. The hand had ceased playing; the voices behind them had sunk to a vague murmur.

Widow Preferred to Meet Death at Home

"For many years I suffered from stomach trouble. All the doctors I tried helped me but little. All said I would have to go to hospital and be operated on for gall stones or I would not live much longer. I told them I preferred to meet death at home. One day I picked up an advertisement of May's Wonderful Remedy and since taking a course of it more than a year ago have not had a single pain in my stomach, have good appetite and can eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. P. Baker Druggist.

Then this epidemic of Spanish Influenza hit us—and in the last 10 days this stock has vanished. At first we thought this tremendous demand would last only a few days, but the orders have run:

Wed. Oct. 16....18,504 doz.

Thurs. Oct. 17....26,323 doz.

Fri. Oct. 18....39,256 doz.

Sat. Oct. 19....45,582 doz.

Mon. Oct. 21....77,705 doz.

This advertisement is written on Monday, October 21st. It is directed to the attention of all distributors of Vick's VapoRub, both wholesale and retail.

In an emergency such as the present epidemic—our duty—and your duty—is to distribute VapoRub in the quickest possible manner to those sections stricken by influenza. We, therefore, call your careful attention to the following:

DANGER OF SHORTAGE IF SUPPLY IS NOT CONSERVED.

On October 1st we had on hand, at our factory and in twenty warehouses scattered over the country, sufficient VapoRub to last us, we thought, until January 1st, allowing for a 50% increase over last year's sales, and not counting our daily output. This big excess stock had been accumulated during the summer months.

Then this epidemic of Spanish Influenza hit us—and in the last 10 days this stock has vanished. At first we thought this tremendous demand would last only a few days, but the orders have run:

Wed. Oct. 16....18,504 doz.

Sat. Oct. 19....45,582 doz.

Mon. Oct. 21....77,705 doz.

Up to Saturday, October 19th, we had actually shipped for this month $400,284.10 or over two million jars of VapoRub.

THE PROBLEM NOW IS TO DISTRIBUTE VAPORUB QUICKLY.

Most of this tremendous quantity is still enroute to the jobbers, but freight and express are both congested nowadays, and it may be some time before this supply reaches the jobbers.

In the meantime, therefore, it is necessary that we distribute, as widely as possible, the stock that we are manufacturing daily, together with that now on the jobbers' and retailers' shelves, in order that it may get to the influenza districts quickly. Our normal output is about 4,000 dozen per day. We are putting on a night shift, but it will be a little while before that is producing.

WHAT WE ASK THE WHOLESALE DRUGGIST TO DO.

Last Saturday we notified all of our jobbers, by Special Delivery, as follows:

1st—Deals and quantity shipments of all kinds are cancelled. Fill no quantity orders of any kind,

whether taken by our salesmen or by your own. Sell in small lots only.

HEISMAN AGAIN SEEKS GRID GLORY AT GEORGIA TECH

New York, Oct. 25.—The name of Johnny Johnson is well known to followers of football throughout the East and Middle West.

The veteran coach of the crack Georgia Tech football squads has made a mark for himself that will live on through years and years to come at the Georgia school, and his reputation among the members of the coaching fraternity is most certainly unshaken.

Johnson, discovered America at Cleveland back in 1899, and played his first football with the Titusville, Pa., high school team. He was later a star at Brown University, and still later starred with Penn, playing tackle and end on the elevens of 1899 and 1900.

His first coaching position of any prominence was with Oberlin College. His teams won every game played in the Fall of 1892, and succeeded in back more popular than ever after the war came. Mr. Johnson

"What would prevent Mr. Johnson from running the semi-pro end of the federation?" As we have planned, games are to be played Saturdays and Sundays on three American league parks, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit, giving these club owners enough to pay overhead expenses of the plan.

And who would be in keeping with such a plan than the head of the American league lend his influence to see that league is run right?"

MUST ABANDON ALL OCTOBER CONTESTS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Kansas City, Oct. 25.—All October football games in the Missouri Valley Conference has been made necessary by the refusal of Col. R. L. Rees of the army general staff of the Students' Army Training Corps to modify the rules concerning the athletics set forth in the circular of September 26.

According to A. Ross Hill, president of the University of Missouri and district educational director of the S. A. T. C., Col. Rees stated that these regulations would stand in detail. No commanding officer of the S. A. T. C. will be permitted to violate the rules of the War Department which prohibit the training of soldiers, sailors and students other than Saturday afternoons of this month.

The telegram to President Hill was in answer to the recommendation of the presidents, board of control, and faculty representatives of the Missouri Valley schools that the conference football schedule be allowed to stand

EAN JOHNSON MAY HEAD NEW LEAGUE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Cleveland, Oct. 25.—A prominent baseball man—perhaps President Taft himself or the American League—will be sought at hand for the proposed semi-professional league of the National Baseball Federation, for the duration of the war, which will replace the professional game. Directors of the federation are business men who can not conveniently spend the time to devote to the successful operation of the plans.

Clayton Townes, member of the executive board and organizer of the federation, will suggest to the board that measures be taken to place the proposal before Mr. Johnson, in the hope of securing his cooperation. It is expected that the aid of Clark Griffith, who purchased more than $100,000 worth of baseball equipment for soldiers and sailors, will probably be sought.

The federation expects to play a salaried man who accepts the position.

There is to be no personal profit, however, from the new league. All above expenses will go to the war athletic activities fund.

"Our league is intended to fill the gap caused by the cessation of professional baseball, which will come back more popular than ever after the war ends," Mr. Townes
